“Choose one and be both subversive and wonderfully scented”

The biggest names don't always guarantee the best product and guys looking for an aftershave which smells nice but doesn't carry any of the smug arrogance of big brand smells should check out Anglia Perfumery's fragrances.

Luke Leitch, writing in the Times, says the company offers something different but no less attractive than those offerings from multinational companies.

"Choose one and be both subversive and wonderfully scented," he states.
